In Memory of Jack Miller

Jack Miller

April 20, 1940 - July 23, 2010

Currently living and shoeing in Florida, Jack was in Maryland when he passed. He will be missed by his farrier friends and clients from coast to coast. According to his friend no official service is planned. Memorial services will be held in different states, such as Florida and California, in the near future. His friends in Florida are planning a Memorial at Jack's favorite restaurant in January 2011. Details will be posted on this website. Jack requested his ashes be scattered at sea.

You can read comments posted on Jack's Facebook page.

Jack's very good friend of Texas, John Marino called us last week with the sad news. John and Ralph Casey discussed planning a memorial for Friday October 22, 2010 here in Georgia during the convention in the Hall of Fame Museum as a tribute to all inductees.

Jack was inducted into the BWFA Hall of Fame in 1993 along with many of his colleagues.

The last conversation Ralph had with Jack was in 2009 about farrier apprentices. Jack said he went to an eight week shoeing course in 1963 under Al Pinson of Texas. He went right to work on his own, not under a Master.

Jack joined the BWFA as the first of only 5 Honorary Master Farriers on January 18, 1992. He and Bucky Hatfield finalized the BWFA Master Farrier test and their names are still on the test dated 1992.

See Jack's Hall of Fame bio on the Hall of Fame page of the BWFA website.
